By DON WHITEHEAD
WASHINGTON—(AP)—Senate investigators studied reports today that a powerful underworld ring is reaping riches from the misery of at least 50,000 drug addicts.

The reports came from Commissioner H. J. Anslinger of the U. S. Narcotics bureau. Anslinger's force of 175 agents, some senators say, is too small to cope with the situation.

Anslinger gave his estimate of the number of narcotics addicts to the special committee investigating crime and gambling.

Chairman Kefauver (D-Tenn.) told reporters the number represents those who buy narcotics illegally—that is, from sources outside the medical world.

Anslinger has given the Senate group a list of 800 persons who, he says, form a criminal ring dealing in narcotics, crime and even murder.

Kefauver said it is obvious that the narcotics traffic extends to every city of any size in the United States.

The committee also is eyeing the gambling situation in the St.

Louis area, where state police raided a bookmaker's headquarters Monday. Police were reported to have found confidential files indicating big wagers were being handled through Western Union office managers.

The St. Louis Post-Dispatch said the files also showed that Western Union managers were offered a 25 per cent cut in bookie winnings on horse race bets transmitted by wire.

In New York Western Union officials said their office managers are instructed not to accept gifts or commissions from gamblers.

Police in Trenton, N. J., yesterday released photographs which they said were copies of direct mail advertisements by C. J. Rich and Co., the bookmakers, raided in St. Louis. The documents gave a bank reference and said the firm had been in business 20 years.

"We are just as close to you as your telephone," the ad said. "Once you have established your business relationship with us, simply telephone your wires to the closest telegraph office."

Plane Plunge Survivors Go On To Michigan

Puerto Ricans Have Beet Field Jobs

CHARLESTON, S. C., (AP)—Recuperating from a soul-trying experience in shark-infested waters, most of the Puerto Rican survivors of an Atlantic ocean plane crash today made plans to continue on to their work in Michigan sugar beet fields.

Thirty-four of the migratory workers were brought here yesterday, after being picked up early Tuesday morning. Their plane, a C-46 owned by Westair company of Seattle, Wash., crashlanded 275 miles off Miami Monday night.

Death Toll 28

There were 65 persons aboard. The pilot, co-pilot and steward also were with those landed here yesterday by the U. S. Navy destroyer escort, Saufley. Eight Puerto Ricans are known dead. There is scant hope for the remaining 20.

Despite their harrowing experience in the shark-infested waters, 23 of the surviving workers plan to continue to Michigan. Three want to return home. Three others are undecided.

As they were being cared for in Navy barracks here, representatives of the Civil Aeronautics board and the Puerto Rican government conducted an investigation of the crash.

Gordon Matthews, assistant head of the CAB's accident investigation branch, was in San Juan. Other officials were conducting an inquiry from this end.

Truman Talks In Home State

By ERNEST B. VACCARO

WASHINGTON—(AP)—President Truman leaves today for two foreign policy talks in Missouri, after asking the nation's prayers for the wisdom to "obtain peace in the world."

"Never in the history of the country has a servant of the people—and that is what the president is—needed your support and your prayers as does the present occupant of the White House," Mr. Truman told a church gathering here yesterday.

In solemn words, he related something of his feeling at this time of his country's "tremendous possibilities" in the cold war.

No man, he said, no matter how great or how informed he may be, is capable of filling the presidency in the manner "in which it ought to be done." He called it "the greatest job in the world."

Standing in the pulpit of the Augustana Evangelical Lutheran church, he told delegates to the 91st National Annual Synod: "All any man can do is to do the best he can in the interests of all the people of the United States."

Religious people, the president said, "are the greatest support a free government can have."

Mr. Truman takes off at 4 p. m. (EST) in the "Independence" for St. Louis. He cancelled his usual Thursday news conference to work at his desk until departure time.

Name Of Forrestal Linked To Delay In Soviet Spy Arrests

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Senate investigators were reported today to have received secret testimony that the late James V. Forrestal probably advised delaying arrests in the 1945 Amerasia case.

A source in close touch with the senate inquiry into the secret documents case told a reporter the testimony came from Assistant Attorney General James M. McInerney, chief of the justice department's criminal division. The source asked not to be named.

Forrestal was secretary of the navy at the time the case broke five years ago. Later he became secretary of defense. He was killed last year in a plunge from an upper floor of the Naval Medical Center at nearby Bethesda, Md.

The information about the testimony regarding Forrestal came to light in the wake of still another authoritative report that the committee got testimony yesterday that presidential aide James K. Vardaman may have tried to delay prosecution in the hotly-disputed Amerasia case.

Vardaman emphatically denied it to a reporter last night. McInerney's testimony was taken by the committee last month at a series of sessions behind closed doors.

An informant said McInerney first told the committee he seemed to recall that Forrestal had asked the justice department to delay the arrest of the six persons accused. They were taken into custody by the FBI in June, 1945.

Later this informant said, McInerney testified that he had located a note from justice department files which indicated that Forrestal did make such a request.

Eisenhower Warns Nation About Huge Military Spending

By ERNEST B. VACCARO

NEW YORK—(AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower said today that huge military expenditures are necessary but "if unwatched, may dangerously bleed the economy and even destroy what we seek to protect."

Eisenhower made the statement in a speech at the 196th commencement exercises of Columbia university, which he heads.

He told the Columbia graduates that "stupendous military expenditures," though "essential for the country's safety," are one of the major problems to be faced in the future.

Eisenhower recently said before a U. S. Senate appropriations subcommittee that our military budget had been trimmed as far as was wise—"even too far."

He said at that time that he might have added a few hundred million dollars—not more than $500,000,000—to the proposed budget for arms, if he had his way.

However, before the committee

he also listed a healthy economy as an essential for national safety. Gen. Eisenhower said today that the danger of wrong answers to the nation's own problems is as critical as the danger from "world revolution," with an announced purpose of destroying the American system of government.

He listed among the problems the graduates must face:

"The growing and, apparently, voluntary dependence of many groups upon governmental subsidies;

"The future character of our medical care and of our educational system;

"The economic and human deterioration incident to industrial strife;

"The effect of huge and mounting taxes upon competitive enterprise; * * *

"An unbalanced national budget that is begetting out of group pressures, log-rolling and political compromise;

"Inflation, born of the unbalanced budget, that nullifies every income gain of worker and farmer and reduces to the vanishing point his slowly accumulated savings."

"To this conviction is mainly attributed Secretary of State Acheson's firm reassertion yesterday of American policy that Germany must be kept disarmed, despite official word that from the military point of view its rearmament in the west would be a good thing."

Acheson's position in foreign policy matters is decisive, under the president's authority. Hence, it is apparent that any thought of direct action by the United States at this time to form a west German army is out of the question.

State department officials take the position that the defense of the west rests primarily not on the number of men and guns that can be mustered but on the political cooperation and single-minded determination of the western powers to act together in all matters involving their security against the Soviet Union.

It is against this principle that the department officials measure the issue of rearming Germany. Their belief is that the western European members of the Atlantic alliance still have very great fears of a rearmament. Thus their willing cooperation in creating effective and powerful forces under the Atlantic treaty would be endangered by any effort to bring Germany into the picture.

ANN ARBOR, Mich.—(AP)—The $3,500,000 fire that swept Haven Hall on the University of Michigan campus Tuesday destroyed a batch of final exam papers.

But the students won't have to take the exams over. Literary College Dean Hayward Keniston said yesterday final grades would be made by judgment of the professors.

Chemist Hides Russian Birth

SAN FRANCISCO—(AP)—A 38-year-old woman biochemist at Stanford university today is charged by a federal indictment of lying to immigration officials to conceal her Russian birth.

She is Dr. Bertha Barkan Luthy, wife of a Jackson, Mich., spark plug manufacturer.

The grand jury indictment was returned yesterday. It charges that Dr. Luthy lied when she told an immigration inspector at Palo Alto last Feb. 13 that she was born in Chicago Oct. 4, 1916. The immigration service maintains she was born in the Russian Ukraine in 1912 and entered the United States through Seattle in 1917 with her mother.

Assistant U. S. Attorney Edgar Bousall said her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Yankel Barkan, residing in Jackson, Mich., under the name of James Barker, are awaiting a re-hearing on an immigration service deportation order for assertedly advocating violent overthrow of the government.

Dr. Philip Leighton, head of the Stanford university chemistry department, said Dr. Luthy is engaged in cancer research on a grant from the Rockefeller Foundation.

Dr. Luthy is said to be a member of the Senate Banking committee, which sent the rent measure to the Senate by an eight to five vote.

The present rent law expires June 30. The bill would extend the curbs to December 31. It also would permit an additional six months of control in communities where affirmative action was taken through referendum or by local officials.

Cain, an arch foe of rent controls, spoke against the bill for nearly three and a half hours yesterday. He was given permission to resume his lengthy speech today after the Senate disposes of a number of non-controversial bills.

The House originally had planned to debate a rent measure Monday, and vote on it Tuesday. But Senate Democratic leader Lucas (Ill.) interrupted Cain at one point to tell the Senate the House had postponed action.

Roosevelt Sure Of Tough Race

SAN FRANCISCO—(AP)—James Roosevelt gets his chance in November to fight for the governorship of California against the third term bid of Earl Warren, but figures of Thursday's primary indicate a tough job ahead for FDR's eldest son.

Returns still dribbling in confirmed Roosevelt's never-challenged grasp on the Democratic nomination. His two-party vote, however, lagged far behind the huge total for Republican Warren, the assured GOP nominee.

Primary candidates may cross-fight for both party nominations in California. Warren was the choice of the Democratic as well as Republican voters in the 1946 primary. He bucked the Roosevelt name and the preponderant Democratic registration in trying to do it again.

Roosevelt's running mate, State Senator George Miller, Jr., of Richmond, 37, went down to defeat, Republican Lt. Gov. Goodwin J. Knight of Los Angeles captured both nominations. Knight, often at odds with Warren, campaigned independently.

Civilians Replace Russian Military Rulers In Germany

By RICHARD KASISCHKE

BERLIN—(AP)—Russia today named civilians to replace four military rulers in east Germany in a move apparently designed to bolster the prestige of the Communist east German state.

The changes accelerated the switch from military to civilian control in the Russian zone and were accompanied by indications of increased responsibilities being delegated to the area's Communist-controlled German government.

Allied observers believe, however, the changes did not mean that Moscow was loosening its grip on east Germany but rather was pulling the Kremlin-created state closer toward early partnership as a full-fledged satellite in the Soviet bloc.

The best known of the four military men recalled to Moscow was Maj. Gen. Alexander G. Kotikov, 58-year-old former Red commandant of Berlin and representative of the Soviet control commission in Berlin since the establishment of the east German government last November.

It was Kotikov's frequent use of the veto power which wrecked coordinated four-power rule of the city. He was replaced by Sergei Alexievitch Dengin.

Reds In Tokyo Purge Defiant

By TOM LAMBERT

TOKYO—(AP)—The U. S. remaining 33 Communists today defiantly declared war on "conspiracies" to outlaw the Japanese Red party.

It was the first word from them since General MacArthur purged 41 Communist leaders from Japanese political life. Eight of those removed were members of parliament.

The Red 33 still in parliament pledged to fight the "colonization, military bases and war preparations policies" of the pro-occupation government.

So far the occupation and the government have left the 33 members alone. They are a minority in an assembly of 716 members.

But there was a vague hint of another purge. From Osaka the newspaper Chubu Nippon reported one of Japan's assistant attorney generals said "The third purge of the Communist party will begin late this week."

The Communist diet members issued their "fight" statement after choosing writer Karoku Hosokawa to lead them in future diet sessions. He replaces purged Sanzo Nozaka, generally regarded as the brains of the Japan Communist party.

Filter Plant Site Approved

U. S. Coast Guard Has No Objection

The United States Coast Guard has no objections to construction of the new filter plant on sand point, near the old radio tower, City Manager A. V. Aronson today was informed in a telegram from the commandant of the Ninth Coast Guard district.

Because grounds at the site of the old filter plant are considered too small to accommodate the new plant, the city manager, on recommendation of the planning commission, queried the Coast Guard to learn if the new filter plant location would hinder Coast Guard activities in the harbor area.

The approval from Cleveland clears the way for erection of the plant beyond the marine track, if recommended by the planning commission.

Plans and specifications for the new filter plant, prepared by Consoer, Townsend and associates of Chicago, are nearly completed, the city manager stated today.

About two months will be required to make arrangements for the bond issue and letting of contracts for construction and supervision of construction. The city hopes to begin actual construction sometime in August. Getting federal approval of the sand point site delayed the project about two weeks, Aronson said this morning.

Voters of Escanaba, in an advisory vote last spring, favored creation of a new filter plant, and a $750,000 revenue bond issue to finance the project.

Farm Subsidy Defense Keynote Of Michigan PMA Committee Meeting

The fifth annual conference of the Michigan County PMA (federal production and marketing administration) Committee opened today in Escanaba, keynoteed by speakers defending the federal agricultural subsidy program and attacking those who are critical of it.

About 450 persons, PMA (former AAA) committeemen and their wives from Michigan counties and state and federal PMA officials, are attending the two-day session.

The Delta county PMA committee, Frank J. Brander, chairman, is host to the annual conference. Brander welcomed the conference visitors at the opening session today in Bonifas Memorial auditorium.

Governor on Today
Gov. G. Mennen Williams arrived in Escanaba this morning and addressed the conference this afternoon. A banquet tonight, followed by dancing, the close of today's session. Tomorrow additional PMA officials will be heard.

This morning at the opening session, keynoteing the conference, talks were given by James H. Quick, chairman of the Michigan PMA committee; Clarence A. Kulp, Harrisburg, Pa., PMA fieldman for the Middle West region; and Alfred L. Johnson, Huron, S. D., PMA fieldman for the North-west region.

Quick reported that Ralph S. Trigg, Washington, D. C., PMA administrator, was unable to attend the conference but would be represented by Frank Woolley, his assistant.

Quick described deputy assistant Woolley as "Mr. Trigg's right hand man who is trying to help us get in getting those appropriations for us that we need."

Farmers are Fortunate
Michigan farmers are "fortunate" to be able to attend such meetings "and formulate their programs at the grass roots," Quick said.

Kulp described the creation of the federal farm program starting "back about 1932 or 1933" and said that critics then said "farmers are too dumb" to work as a committee and carry the program through. Results have proved otherwise, he added.

He defended the federal agricultural program and scouted stories in national magazines of the costs of the program in DeKalb county, Ill. The program there is "the best run" in the country, he declared, and "cost the taxpayers of the country not one cent."

Critics are Rapped
"There seems to be a concerted effort in the newspapers and magazines, and on the radio, to tear down the farm program," Kulp said.

Some want to improve the program, he added, but warned that "don't let people mislead you by saying they want a better program when all they want to do is kill it."

He saw only justice in the crop subsidy program, and said that industry and labor also are being subsidized. "This country was built on subsidies, from the telephone and the railroad on down. If it is not good enough for the farmers then it is not good enough for them."

Kulp warned the PMA county committeemen to be active in the defense of the program or it might die.

No Deficit Trouble
Johnson continued the attack on the critics of the agricultural subsidy program and asked the PMA committeemen not to let "those fellows get you down."

Johnson, who has been with PMA for 18 years, several times mentioned "bankers" and "newspapers" in his castigation of those who question the agricultural subsidy program.

If it had not been for the program we would have lost World War II, he said, pointing out that when war came "the farmers were prepared."

The cost to the government of the subsidy program was not considered excessive by Johnson, who said he believes it is "better to be prepared than to balance the budget."

"We can balance the budget in a very short time," he reported.

Government of Plenty
The PMA committeemen were told by Johnson:

"It is a program of plenty, and I love to deal with a government of high inventories—let's not call it surpluses—than with a government of scarcities."

Additional phases of the program were touched on by Johnson, including incentive payments to farmers who cooperate in soil conservation practices—"contour plowing and that sort of thing."

The crop price support program must be continued "or the competition among ourselves will ruin us," he said.

Big industry was mentioned by Johnson in connection with controlled high prices and national economy, and he cited figures to show that production in several lines is monopolized by a few corporations.

Count The Blessings
Johnson said that in his home state of South Dakota there have been no poor farms "since the government came in," and he called upon the PMA committeemen to "count their blessings." Included by Johnson among the blessings was the late President Franklin Roosevelt.

The Production and Marketing Administration administers in Michigan and other states:

1—The federal agricultural conservation program.

2—The price support program.

Senate Committee Calls For 3-Year Extension Of Draft

WASHINGTON—(AP)—A three-year extension of the peacetime draft act was recommended to the Senate today by its armed services committee.

The present draft act is due to expire June 24.

The Senate bill would continue the president's power to order actual inductions of youths between 18 and 26 years if he found that necessary.

It also includes an amendment by Senator Russell (D-Ga) to require racial segregation in any of the armed services if this is requested in writing by any person drafted.

Under direction of President Truman all of the armed services—Army, Navy and Air Force—have been gradually eliminating segregation of whites and Negroes.

Pilot Burned Saving City From Plane Fire

ELSINORE, Calif. — (AP)—Capt. Roy C. Gray Jr. of El Toro Marine Air Base was burned seriously last night as he stayed with his flaming plane long enough to get it away from this city before parachuting.

The plane crashed in a dry section of Lake Elsinore. Gray was taken to March Air Force Base hospital, suffering from first and second degree burns.

Police said Gray parachuted from a very low level, perhaps 200 feet. Air Force public relations said the pilot reported the plane—a Corsair Fighter—exploded.

Beauty Queen Held On Narcotic Charge By Detroit Police

DETROIT—(AP)—Brunette Peggy Ellsworth, Miss Michigan of 1947, is being held today for investigation of violating the state's narcotic law.

Detectives Harry Marten and Paul Rehn said the 24-year-old beauty who placed 16th in the Miss America contest told them she started smoking marijuana when she couldn't find steady work as a model or entertainer.

Falling in love with a drummer dope addict, Miss Ellsworth began to use heroin, Marten said she told him. Recent treatments by her physician, she claims, have cured her.

Marten and Rehn said they found a hypodermic syringe, needles and a capsule containing a narcotic in her apartment.

A special feature of the meeting will be a tour of the Newberry state hospital Saturday afternoon. Dr. E. A. Rettke of Newberry, president of the U. P. association is in charge.

Another feature of the sessions will be a discussion of proposed compulsory health insurance as it affects those treated by chiropractors.

Clark, the baby's maternal grandmother, has been informed. The Degnans now have four daughters and one son. Mrs. Degnan is the former Elizabeth Clark of this city.

Health Clinic—The regular immunization clinic will be held at the Health Center Friday from 1 to 3.

Planning Commission—The regular meeting of the Escanaba planning commission, which was to be held tonight, will be held Monday night in the city manager's office. The council chambers will not be available because of band practice. The meeting is open to the public.

Beach House—City crews are now laying water mains for the new beach house under construction in Ludington park. A. V. Aronson, city manager, said today. City workers also are hauling top soil for the yacht harbor and beach area and repairs are being made in the municipal dock area. Some grass was killed by frost last winter, Aronson reports, but the tulips survived and are in full bloom.

Development Of City Forest Here Is Example Of Good Land Use

THE city forestry department has started work on the planting of 25,000 pine seedlings in the city forest, located on a portion of the land acquired by the city from the U. S. government in the ore dock project site purchase. It is the second year in which plantings have been made on the city forest.

The city forest project is an outstanding example of good land use. Much of the land acquired by the city is suitable only for reforestation. The cost of the project is relatively small, particularly since the land is ideal for the use of a planting machine that saves labor. Last year about 25,000 trees were planted and a similar number are being set in this week. Another planting is contemplated in the fall and annually thereafter until all of the land within the city forest area has been replanted.

Nursery stock is scarce now and so the number of trees that can be planted this year is limited to that extent. However, in future years it is hoped to accelerate the tree planting program materially as more nursery stock becomes available. The reopening of the nursery at Manistique should be a major factor in alleviating this situation.

Eventually it is hoped to have a million trees growing in the city forest. To reach that objective, of course, it will take a number of years of much heavier annual plantings than are currently being made.

Politics Interferes With Statehood Issue

THOUGH they're largely unspoken, the main arguments in the Senate against statehood for Hawaii and Alaska are political.

Some senators simply don't care to have four more senators swelling their numbers. They fear the senatorial toga wouldn't be as distinguished a garment.

This fear is especially acute among lawmakers from New England and the South, who foresee a smaller voice for their regions and a lustier one for the booming West. It's assumed, of course, that Hawaii and Alaska would stand with their western brethren on the big issues of resources development and farm programs.

Not a few senators are cool to Hawaiian statehood because it would confer voting privileges on that territory predominantly non-Caucasian population.

And because both territories are chiefly rural, certain big city lawmakers are against bringing them in as states. Their feeling is that Congress already has too strong a rural coloring.

These are the points turning over in senatorial minds as the upper chamber fights a delaying action against statehood bills long since approved by the House.

But if there is sincere promise in the constitutional assurance that any U. S. territory may become a state, then all these political arguments are irrelevant. In one form or another they could have been made against the entry of many of our present 48 states.

The question the Senate must honestly decide is whether Hawaii and Alaska have the genuine substance of statehood, a mature grasp of their own affairs, a sense of responsibility that fits them for fuller representation in the U. S. government.

Any facts which bear upon this fundamental test are relevant to the Senate's decision. For example, can Alaska, whose land now is 99 per cent federally-owned, get along without too heavy reliance on Washington? Can Hawaii manage larger responsibilities without succumbing to troublesome Communist influences?

If legitimate queries like these can be answered favorably for the territories, as the House seems to believe, then the Senate has no right to block statehood. Under such circumstances its action would be properly branded as narrow, selfish politics destructive of the country's highest constitutional ideals.

Other Editorial Comments

POSTAL CUTBACK (Pittsburgh Post-Gazette)

Postmaster Donaldson had no choice but to pare operating costs in his department, as he has now done by reducing mail service to the nation's homes and businesses.

Postoffice deficits have been mounting. Yet congress has failed to come through with a hike in mail rates. And a house committee, in proper economy mood, recently lopped 125 million dollars off the pending postal budget.

So costs had to come down, and Mr. Donaldson, the first merit appointee to the postmaster generalship, squarely faced the issue.

Indeed, the United States, now spending 50c of its tax dollar on essential security alone, cannot long avoid the shoals of ruinous inflation unless lawmaker and citizen alike are ready to, and do, economize, Donaldson fashion, elsewhere in the government.

OF AMERICAN CHARACTER (Indianapolis Star)

Perhaps American character has really changed. Perhaps the American people no longer care about principle and morality and idealism. Perhaps we do subscribe to the philosophy which says that "what you can get away with is right" instead of the Lincolnian faith "that right makes might." We prefer to believe, however, that the conscience of the American people is only sleeping; that American idealism, American faith and American principle can and will be aroused by men who demonstrate that integrity, honesty and righteousness can and must prevail if American freedom is to endure.

Thrift is fine but, as racketeers know, it isn't wise to have more than you earn.

Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—Grim-faced leaders of small business, labor and farm co-operatives made a special plea against the basing point bill at a recent closed-door meeting with Democratic Chairman Bill Boyle.

The session was opened with the blunt question: "Do you want a Republican Congress next year? One sure way is to let the president sign the basing point bill."

"If Mr. Truman's messages on small business mean anything," continued gravel-voiced George Burger of the National Federation of Independent Business, "he'll veto this bill. His program is absolutely worthless if this bill becomes law, and small business knows it."

"Farmers, consumers and small business will pay higher freight costs, if this bill is signed," threw in Wallace Campbell of the Co-operative League.

Others in the delegation agreed vigorously. They were: Don Montgomery of the United Auto Workers, George Fretas of the Wholesale Druggists, Ed Rowe of the United Wholesale Grocers and William Marsh of the National Association of Retail Tire Dealers. Boyle appeared to be impressed that these groups, usually following separate paths, were lined up together.

"How does it happen Democrat senators are doing all the hard work for the Republican bill?" asked Montgomery of the Auto Workers. He referred to Joe O'Mahoney of Wyoming, Democratic whip Francis Myers of Pennsylvania and Herbert O'Connor of Maryland.

BOYLE'S REACTION

"I just don't know," replied Boyle sadly. "The action of administration senators for the basing point bill surprises me."

"The Democrats are the best ball carriers the Republicans could hope for on this deal," observed Burger caustically.

The small business representative also reminded Boyle that South Carolina's Burnet Maybank, chairman of the "so-called small business committee," voted for basing point side by side with GOP chiefs Robert Taft and Ken Wherry.

The delegation pointed out that the basing point bill would raise the cost of living, that big steel and cement interests would profit from the formula at the expense of other economic segments, and that Mr. Truman's action on the bill was as much a test as the Kerr gas bill.

At the end of the session, Chairman Boyle said: "This has been an education for me, and I'm convinced you're right. I'll do my best to persuade the president to veto the bill."

TRYGVE LIE AND TRUMAN

Here is the inside story of what happened when U. N. Secretary General Trygve Lie met with President Truman and Secretary Acheson following Lie's return from Moscow.

Lie first reported on the strong desire for peace which he found everywhere from Moscow to Washington; then asked the president to consider sending Acheson to a special meeting of the United Nations security council in Geneva this summer, a meeting which he said was imperative to keep the United Nations from collapsing.

Mr. Truman's reaction was immediate. He promptly said he could do no such thing; that it would be a cruel hoax to play on the American people when there is absolutely no chance of agreement with Russia.

The only thing Russia understands, the president argued, is force, and the west is going to build up its own force until Russia realizes the democracies mean business. After that, perhaps a meeting with Russia might produce some good.

As it is now, Truman told the U. N. secretary general, Russia is boycotting the United Nations because it won't seat Communist China—just like a little boy who says he won't play in the game unless he can be captain of the team. In contrast, Truman said, the United States has attended every meeting, never used its veto and is working night and day for peace.

Trygve Lie left the meeting convinced there is absolutely no chance for an east-west meeting in the near future.

Take My Word For It . . . Frank Colby

IS IT "CHAPERON" OR "CHAPERONE"?

Pekin: Why don't you start a campaign to get people to spell chaperon correctly? Perhaps a discussion of the origin of the word would help.—V. G.

A. The preferred spelling is chaperon, without the final "e." The dictionaries also list "chaperone," but as a second choice spelling.

The word has a most interesting origin. In French, from which language we borrowed the word, its literal meaning is, "a hooded cape" similar to a riding hood. Indeed, Little Red Riding Hood is known in France as Le Petit Chaperon Rouge. Note that le (the), petit (little), the chaperon (riding hood) are words of masculine gender, although Little Red Riding Hood, of course, is a girl.

The French use chaperon as we do—in the figurative meaning of a matron who accompanies a young girl, or who keeps her eye on young couples at parties, dances etc. But "le chaperon" still is masculine. (Le is the masculine form for "the," and la is the feminine.)

Similarly in French the word for teacher is masculine—professeur. There is no feminine form. So one addresses a woman teacher as madame (or mademoiselle) le professeur. One speaks of her as mon professeur, using the masculine pronoun "mon" (my), instead of the feminine "ma."

In French, gender is a fearful and complicated business. To begin with, there is no neuter gender; things are either masculine or feminine. Not only nouns and pronouns have gender, but so do the articles, and most adjectives.

For example, to say in French, "Is the table beautiful?" one says, "La table est-elle belle?" Every word except "est" (is) is feminine. "Is the book beautiful?" is written, "Le livre est-il beau?" for every word but "est" is masculine.

Problem Child—

Contents Of Fruit Basket Will Be Costlier This Year, Experts Say

By KENNETH M. SCHEIBEL
Staff Correspondent of The Wall Street Journal

WASHINGTON—Your fruit cocktail will be topped off with something different this summer—higher prices.

"You're going to have to pay more this year for peaches, pears, grapes, plums and prunes, and probably cherries," predicts one Agriculture Department official.

The reason: Winter freezes and spring frosts nipped the fruit trees and vines and cut the size of this year's crops.

Just how big the price jumps will be isn't known yet, and federal fruit men think it's still too early to guess. They want to look over crop estimates during the critical summer season before getting out their slide rules and making dollars-and-cents forecasts.

Though still slightly cheaper than at this time last year, fruit has already climbed several rungs of the price ladder this spring. The Bureau of Agriculture Economics' fruit price index for the month ended April 15 jumped to 206 from 193 for the month before. (The 1910-14 average is 100.) "Just how fast and how far this is going to keep climbing we don't know," says a farm price economist.

Canned Supplies Falling

The outlook for higher prices has been enhanced lately by rapidly diminishing inventories of some major fruits in the hands of canners and distributors. In California, which packs over 85% of U. S. cling peaches, packers' and distributors' inventories of this fruit on May 1 were down about 15% from last year's May 1 supply. May 1 fruit cocktail stocks were down almost 20% from last year. The supply of canned California pears in packers' and distributors' hands on May 1 was down about 13%.

In clings, the nation's largest fruit pack, California canners and growers have just signed up an agreement to limit the amount that will come on the canned fruit market as a hedge against repetition of steep price slides of recent years. California canners in recent weeks have twice increased the price of canned clings. Higher grower prices for clings this year, as a result of the agreement, are considered almost certain.

The price rise prediction goes for fruit in any form—fresh, canned or frozen. But federal officials note that only a "very small" part of the peach, apple, pear, grape and plum crops is frozen.

In the case of strawberries, however, between 25% and 30% of the harvest will be frozen this year—mostly in Oregon and Washington. Chances are you'll pay more for this delicacy, too.

The Agriculture Department does offer some relief from the unhappy outlook. It says this year's apple harvest, little hurt by weather, promises to be good. And for 1950-51 citrus crops, conditions on May 1 were reported "generally favorable."

Here's a taste of the size of some of this year's other fruit crops:

The 1950 peach harvest in 10 southern states—it's marketed in the East—is forecast at 6,600,000 bushels. That would be the smallest since 1943, only half the lean 1949 harvest and one-fourth the record 1945 output. Georgia and the Carolinas are due to come up with a yield only one-fifth of normal. "This means that supplies of fresh peaches for June and July markets will be very small," says a government report.

Pear Prospects Poorer

Pear prospects, too, "are much less favorable than last year," according to the Agriculture Department. California's crop is going to be smaller than last year's bumper harvest. It suffered from April frosts. And in Washington, winter cold caused "considerable damage" to the popular Bartlett variety. The Oregon pear outlook is poorer than a year ago, also because of freeze damage.

For some fruit crops the Agriculture Department at this stage of the season merely tries to gauge growing conditions and probable yields instead of estimating actual production. It figures perfect conditions and maximum yields at 100. By this measure the pear crop on May 1 rated 65% to 79%. That stacks up poorly against the range of 86% to 93% on May 1 last year.

The grape crop in California on May 1 wasn't up to last year's standard, either. "Grapes have bloomed in the Desert Valley (the area west of Los Angeles), but in other areas blossoms have not yet developed. In some of the northern wine grape localities, first growth of foliage has just started," federal experts report. On May 1 the condition of the wine-making grapes was put at 79%, compared with 81% a year earlier. Table grape varieties also were 79%, against 85% last year. The condition of raisin grapes on May 1 was 78%, compared with 85% a year earlier. But in most grape-growing areas of the eastern and central states, 1950 yields were expected to be about the same as last year.

Letters From The People

Butter - Margarine

Dear Editor:

Dated May 31st, 1950, we received a circular letter from our Agricultural County Agent (Joe Heirman) in which we are informed as farmers that it is necessary to put on an educational program to teach people the need of voting against colored Oleo sale in Michigan, so as to not injure the dairy farmer of the upper peninsula.

First of all by what authority can this 1 cent per pound of butter fat be withheld toward a program of education without first consulting the farmer?

Then why should we have to educate the consumer (city buyer) when we have farmers who will buy their own table spread by gyping Oleo themselves and sell their butter fat.

I am satisfied most city folks would rather buy good natural butter, instead of Oleo, if our system of buying power would compare with their earning power. Let's give the American working man, farmer, etc. enough pay for their labors; let's put money into circulation; let's retire our aged citizens with a decent pension; let's create jobs for our younger people thereby, let's destroy our so-called social programs, let's give the American people a chance to exercise their God given right of enjoying God's beautiful supply of everything—Then we would not need to educate the people, then we would not have to chisel on the farmer's labor, (without his consent.)

When will we learn, that we are working toward our own misery

California Plums Suffer

California's plum harvest is calculated at 83,000 tons this year, against 90,000 tons last year. The Agriculture Department puts part of the blame on early March frosts, principally in the San Joaquin Valley. In Michigan, second to California as a producer, the plum crop was about average for May 1, the department says.

"Prospects for California prunes are good," the Agriculture experts state, "although the crop will probably be lighter than indicated earlier by the heavy bloom. But the prune crop in other western states, Washington, Oregon and Idaho, will be very short this year. Prospects in Washington, Oregon and Idaho are poor because of the damage from winter freezes and spring frosts."

The California cherry harvest is expected to fall to 31,000 tons this year from 1949's 44,000 tons. In Washington, cherry prospects "vary from failure to good." Oregon cherries suffered winter damage, especially in the eastern part of the state, but "fair" production is predicted for the state as a whole. Idaho has "prospects for about half an average crop."

This year's fruit losses follow the pattern of weather damage to growing things in general. Heavy rains and warm spells followed by cold snaps have brought gloomy government predictions for many crops. Recently the Agriculture Department announced that weather damage has darkened the prospects for wheat, corn and other grains.

and destruction, because our system of production has progressed so wonderfully, but we don't seem to have learned how to distribute such. By disposing of our crops while others want and need it for bodily sustenance, while we keep people on a dole, we are inviting just what we are experiencing right now.

God will not always be mocked, so maybe instead of trying to educate people in more nonsensical ways, we had better learn ourselves the right method. Let's have a National Townsend pension plan and you won't need to worry about oleo or butter. Give the people the buying power and they are smart enough to use that which is best for themselves and their families.

We as farmers still want to know by what authority you have a right to take our earnings, yet no mention is made about the processor contributing a thing. That's where we are so sadly mistaken, we take from the worker and give so much to the middleman or those who profit much, yet have made so little effort physically.

Let's have a National pension plan and put money into circulation, we will wonder why we have been fools so long.

Respectfully,
Arnold T. Rossow,
Chicago Farmer,
Gladstone Rt. 1, Mich.

In all God's providences, it is good to compare His word together; for we shall find a beautiful harmony between them, and that they mutually illustrate each other.—Matthew Henry.

Good Evening . . .

By CLINT DUNATHAN

NOT ORPHANS—Those young deer you may happen to find in the woods at this season of the year are not orphans. Mama deer is around watching out for Junior.

Miss Mary Goodreau, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Goodreau of 1210 Third avenue south, tells me that she saw "a little curled up spotted fawn," on a recent weekend trip to the country. Incidentally, Miss Mary likes the outdoors and outdoor sports, particularly ice skating. She was one of the intermediate age stars in the Escanaba ice show last February.

"But the fawn really wasn't alone," said Mary. "We could hear something moving around in the woods and we thought it must be the mother deer."

And very likely it was, for fawns are not abandoned.

LAW SAYS NO—Some people make the mistake of picking up the "poor little things" and carting them off home, where they raise them on a bottle and otherwise make pets of them.

Conservation officers advise folks to leave the fawns alone, and the law backs them with a regulation that forbids anyone to take or keep a fawn as a pet. There are several reasons why this should be so.

The fawns are more likely to die if removed from their mother; and they do grow up to become (if bucks) very dangerous to have around.

(Note: Although the state will not issue a permit to anyone to keep a wild deer as a pet, persons who had them before the regulation went into effect can keep those they now have.)

MORE VALUABLE—Other and perhaps more valuable finds are also being made in the Michigan woods these days.

We are referring to that wonder mineral, uranium—raw material for atomic power. First uranium strike in the Great Lakes area was north of Sault Ste. Marie—about 70 years ago! A Canadian geologist rediscovered the radio-active mineral a year ago and started a prospectors' rush.

This search lapped over into Michigan and the discovery of uranium in Baraga county on the south shore of Lake Superior last summer.

Now a second find of uranium was recently reported in Sturgeon River state forest, Dickinson county.

The uranium trail is drawing closer to Delta county.

THE KNOW HOW—And there are two men in Delta county who have more knowledge of the minerals to be found here than anyone else we know. If uranium is found locally, undoubtedly they will be the ones to find it.

They are Werner and Fred Vietzke of Rapid River, who conduct a mineral specimen business, operate a farm, and have many other active interests. They use mineral finders in their prospecting, have read and studied the subject, and know their geology of the region better than some of the professors.

In a recent issue of The Mineralogist, widely circulated magazine for those in the field, appeared an article titled "Uranium in Michigan" written by Werner Vietzke. A map of the Northern Michigan area, including a portion of Canada was used in illustrating the article. The map, too, was drawn by Vietzke.

AT THIS TIME—So we have wandered from deer to uranium and back again. But the Upper Peninsula is a fascinating and unbelievably rich region for anyone interested in its wealth of natural resources.

And to us and to many others, these resources include the simple beauty of a new born fawn, hiding its spotted body among the uncurling ferns, to the startlingly world-wide potentialities of the atomic bomb. All this and more is typical of this vast and varied Michigan.

The Other Side

By Gordon Martin

Life is full of controversy and it's sure enough a fact, that when arguing we often fail to use the proper tact. In a heated conversation, we're inclined to lose our head, and we later come to realize we should have stood in bed. Oftentimes we don't acknowledge, as opponents we deride, that no matter what the issue, there's the other fellow's side.

If it's capital and labor who are putting on the fight, there are partisans who holler that their side's completely right. If it's warring politicians who are trading verbal blows, they may reach the point where someone gets a punchin' in the nose. Be it art or sports or anything we ought to take in stride, we'd be better off to recognize the other fellow's side.

Chances are there will be merit in what each has got to say, and we sift the truth from both to go the democratic way. All too often, we're inclined to think the other guy is dumb, and because he won't agree with us, we figure he's a bum. We'd enjoy our daily living and in peacefulness abide, if more often we would listen to the other fellow's side.

Drop Indicated In Population

Unofficial Census Totals Reported

Population of the city of Escanaba dropped from 14,830 in 1940 to 14,814 in 1950 according to unofficial census reports made by Francis P. Schen of Manistiquette, district census supervisor.

Because the 1940 census credited students to their home towns and the 1950 census credits them to the city in which they are attending school, the Escanaba census figure was expected to lose some from its 1940 figure.

City officials however were surprised at the drop of 16 in the count, and have indicated the census may not have accounted for all Escanaba residents.

Factors which they cite to indicate that the Escanaba population actually increased include the following:

(1) A total of 388 permits for new houses have been issued since 1940.

(2) The number of residential light meters in use have increased by 981 since 1940, giving an average of 4,750 now in use this year.

(3) There are now 469 more water meters in use in the city. In 1940, the city had 3,402 meters in use, for all purposes, and now has 3,871 in use.

School Classes Drop

City officials cite that it can usually be assumed that four people are served by each residential electric meter. This could mean that the present population was about 19,000.

Other factors which thus far have indicated an increase rather than a decrease in population include an increase of 130,919,000 gallons in the amount of water sold yearly by the city.

The school census here in 1949 showed a total of 4,000 between the ages of 5 and 20, a drop of 197 from the 1940 figure. Totals of the 1950 school census will not be available until late this summer.

The pre-school total has increased since 1944, when it first was taken, from 1,170 to 1,687 in 1949.

School officials estimate about 75 students graduating from the public high school last year now are attending colleges outside the city. Considering the St. Joseph graduates and members of previous graduating classes now in college, it is estimated that about 300 students were not credited to Escanaba in the 1950 census.

Anthony Eden Divorces Wife

LONDON—(P)—Former Secretary Anthony Eden won a divorce decree today by testifying that his attractive brunette wife deserted him in 1947 in America.

The handsome Eden told the court in a firm voice that his wife insisted on visiting the United States in 1946, that he accompanied her there and that she then refused to return to her native Britain.

Eden, who has been living apart from his wife for several years, was risking his political future if obtaining a divorce in straight laced Britain.

The deputy conservative leader's wife who is living in New York City, did not contest the action.

The decree was granted in London's divorce court.

The court granted Eden a decree nisi, which under English law becomes absolute not less than six months after it is granted. The court later will announce the date the decree will become effective.

The 53-year-old Eden has long been considered the logical successor to Winston Churchill as Conservative party leader. But observers pointed out that no political leader in Britain who has figured in a divorce case has ever risen to the post of Prime Minister.

The unwritten taboo against divorce in British public life is so rigid it has even prevailed against a member of the Royal family itself—the Duke of Windsor, formerly King Edward VIII. Political pressure obliged him to abdicate in 1936 when he declared his intention to wed Wallis Warfield Simpson, Baltimore divorcee.

Under the code divorced persons are not even permitted to enter the Royal family's box during the annual Royal race meetings at Ascot.

Construction of the new farmers' market at the corner of Ninth street and First avenue north is expected to be completed by the end of next week, A. V. Aronson, city manager said today.

Steel for the supports and the shelter has arrived and construction of the shelter will be started early next week.

Curb from the alley to First avenue north has been removed, and the area has been sloped to afford better parking spaces.

Displaced Persons

Quota Expanded To 341,000 By Congress

WASHINGTON—(P)—Swift presidential approval is expected for a bill expanding by 91,000 the number of homeless Europeans who may seek a home in this country.

The measure, a liberalized version of the 1948 displaced persons bill, was sent to the White House yesterday after the Senate approved it on a voice vote.

It calls for the admission of 341,000 DPS to the United States—including 153,000 who have entered under the old bill—by June 30 next year.

Plane Plunge Survivors Go On To Michigan

The ship's pilot, interviewed here, credited instinct with a major role in the rescue of the 37 persons.

Pilot Joseph Halsey, 39, of Statte, had crouched to jump from the escape hatch of the plane, when he stopped and snatched a flashlight. He credited that action to instinct. Later he used the flashlight to blink out an S O S to a sister plane which flew overhead. Halsey said one of his ship's two engines "just went bad."

The survivors were picked up about 10 hours after the ship ditched.

One of the Puerto Ricans, Pedro Gugman, was attacked by a shark as the Sauley moved to pick him from the waters. A Bos'n Mate, J. B. Taylor of Charleston, scrambled down the ship's ladder and helped bring Gugman aboard, but the worker died several hours later of the shark's slashes.

Barber Shop Singers Gather In Omaha For 12th Annual Session

OMAHA—(P)—The people for whom old-fashioned harmony has never lost its luster got together here today to hear and talk about their favorite kind of music.

The SPBSQSA—Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barber Shop Quartet Singing in America—claims 30,000 enthusiasts hold membership cards. Some 2,500 of them are expected in Omaha before the Society's 12th annual convention ends Saturday.

On hand to provide plenty of sentimental harmonizing are 40 quartets. Survivors of regional elimination contests, they'll compete for the 1950 SPBSQSA championship in competition tomorrow and Saturday.

Also on the spot with an ear cocked for ideas as well as mellow chords is Capt. H. H. Copeland of Washington, D. C., chief of music of the army special services office.

For the last 15 months the association has been cooperating with the army's department of soldier music to introduce quartet singing to servicemen as part of a recreation program.

Farm Truck Plunges To Death With 8 At Courtland, Calif.

COURTLAND, Calif.—(P)—A farm truck carrying workers home from the fields plunged at least eight men to their deaths in an irrigation canal near here late yesterday.

The death toll may rise to 14. The number was uncertain until checks today determined definitely the number riding on the stake-bed truck.

Ten leaped to safety and three were hospitalized, but survivors were uncertain as to how many had been in the vehicle. The number was believed between 22 and 27.

Seven bodies were recovered and an eighth man died at the hospital.

The truck plunged from a steep incline into the canal as it approached a ferry which crosses a

King's Birthday Brings On Pomp

LONDON — (P) — London

sparkled with pomp and pageantry today as King George VI marked his official birthday by creating seven new peers and bestowed honors on distinguished Britons.

Around the world British diplomats and governors entertained at annual king's birthday receptions. Though the monarch actually was born Dec. 14, 1895, the anniversary officially is celebrated today because Britain's June weather is more pleasant.

Within the capital the high spot of the day's ceremonies was the "trooping of the colors," by crack army units dressed in colorful uniforms dating back to the Napoleonic wars.

These named by the king to his birthday honors list included political figures, actors, musicians, factory workers, a motorcycle racer and Britain's ace steeplejack.

The steeplejack, Sidney Larkins, last November brought down a policeman's helmet that unidentified pranksters hung atop the 310-foot spire of the House of Commons. Today he was awarded the order of the British empire for general competence as an industrial worker during a venture-some career.

To Australia's most distinguished soldier, Gen. Sir Thomas A. Blamey, went a field marshal's baton. He was the second soldier from outside the United Kingdom to be so honored. South Africa's Jan Christiaan Smuts was the other.

fairs committee, which also is considering the second-year arms aid bill.

Marshall acknowledged that there is some danger Russia will strike before western Europe reaches peak military strength. "But," he said, "I am convinced that to sit impotent is the most dangerous thing we can do."

Marshall also met behind closed doors with the two Senate committees. One senator afterwards quoted the general as saying there is a second danger in the arms program: That this country may rear some nation which ultimately will elect a Communist government.

The senator, who asked not to be quoted by name, said: "Marshall said that was a calculated risk that must be taken—that the risk was worth the gamble."

Guns More Powerful

On the question of armored strength, military officials estimate that Russia and its satellites have more than 40,000 medium and heavy tanks of all types—compared with about 6,000 combat-worthy U. S. medium and light tanks.

While the army has ordered production of what it considers the best light tank in the world, it says it will be years before enough of these are delivered to equip all units which will use them.

Gen. J. Lawton Collins, army chief of staff, said recently that this tank will carry a weapon able to knock out any known tractor vehicle.

The army also has the first model of a new medium tank which it plans to bring into "limited production" at an early date, as well as designs for a heavy tank.

Army sources say, however, that there are no plans to build many heavies "until we are sure that we cannot knock out the heaviest of heavies with the improved guns and ammunition of our new light and medium weight tanks."

It is known that the new recoilless rifle—light enough to be carried by two men and reportedly powerful enough to knock out a

Korean Voting Branded Fraud

By O. H. P. KING

SEOUL, — (P) — Communist North Koreans, terming the May 30 election in South Korea fraudulent, today called for a general election through North and South Korea in August.

Radio Pyongyang, mouthpiece of the northern Reds, voiced the announcement. It called for the election to be held in the United Nations sponsored Republic of the south and the Soviet backed northern sector for eight days beginning Aug. 5.

The radio proposed the election of a general legislative organ, which would meet first in Seoul, capital of the Republic, and then meet somewhere near the 38th parallel, which divides North and South Korea.

President Syngman Rhee of the Republic and his prime minister

Lee Bum Suk would be barred from attending the meetings, the broadcast said. So would the U. N. commission in Korea.

As far as the North Koreans are concerned, according to radio Pyongyang, the May 30 election in South Korea was never held

Heavy Heat On Horse Gambling

Expose Really Silly, Ruark Believes

By ROBERT C. RUARK
NEW YORK—The heat is heavy on horse gambling in these parts, which would move a cynic to suspect that the transference of heat to the East coast would lead the voters to forget the unsolved gambler-killing in Kansas City, where the big bookie boys are slain in job lots, in the president's home town, and under his political picture.

The heat is on, and the heat will abate after the correct noises are made long enough, but it is possible to resent the lip-service indignation from Washington. Any gambling expose is real silly, for a variety of reasons.

Just for a start the big gambling operators are all hooked up with politics, local, state and national. They bribe officials. They contribute to campaign funds. They are cut in on administration, especially in state and city politics. They cannot possibly operate without the connivance of the cops, large and small, which means "ice" or graft.

Man Always Will Gamble
You have the moral split of as saying gambling is illegal when a bookie takes the business as opposed to applauded gambling when the state gets its swipe at the legitimate horse parks. If betting a horse is fine and commendable at a legal track, so long as you do it at the mutuels, then it is equally as fine and commendable if you gamble through a bookmaker. It is either bad or good, but cannot be both.

Then you have human nature to deal with. So long as man lives he will gamble. He will steal and he will fight. He will corrupt other men. The history of government and nations attests this from pre-biblical days. You cannot sweepingly reform man.

It has been shown over the centuries that man is treacherous, expedient, and highly selfish—prone to worship at his own shrine and beggar his neighbor. This is regrettable but provable.

In the business of bookmaking, I have never known an instance in which the bookmaker hunted down his prey, commanding him to bet or else. A veteran horse-player has invisible antennae for bookmakers. He will swim rivers and climb those mountains and brave that snow for the privilege of losing his money. If they shoot all the horses he will bet on dogs, and if they shoot all the dogs he will bet on which bird leaves the limb first. And find somebody to help him.

So now we have a Senate committee which is going to protect the horse-player from himself by banning interstate transmission of racing information, and a couple of other private space-grabbing investigations of the local scene, and it all means nothing. A ban on interstate transmission of daily dope would merely create a fresh and lucrative blackmarket in gambling figures, making a new field for the hoodlums and crooked politicians to get rich in. Anybody here remember prohibition? Then they told us it was against the law to drink.

If you knock off a big bookie like Frank Erickson, and even send him to jail, which will be tough, a stand-in merely takes his place. If you implicate a few piggeons in the political dodge, a handful of guys suffer and they run some replacements into the vacated spot. You break a cop, or transfer an inspector—means nothing. New guys take over the graft.

The world is laden with sin, some of which is more sinful than otherwise. Until you tear up every canasta deck, destroy all the horses, make the possession of dice punishable by the death penalty, fire all the cops, shoot all the politicians, and generally abolish people, you will have gambling.

Otherwise the proud statements from Olympus about reform and crackdown and investigation are meaningless mumbles, designed to take the heat off political issues. An old Missouri adage says that when it is hot in Kansas City, you can make it seem cooler by raising the temperature out of town.

Today's Schools Doing Good Job, Says Lemmer

Good students of today are most likely to be the successful men and women of tomorrow, and the schools of today are doing a better job in preparing young people for their future, Supt. John A. Lemmer told high school honor students and their parents at the 26th annual Honor Day luncheon sponsored by the Escanaba Rotary club.

More than 100 persons, including the honor students of the 1950 graduating class of Escanaba Senior high school and St. Joseph's high school, their parents, and Rotarians, attended the luncheon in the Delta hotel.

E. E. Edick, Escanaba Senior high principal, introduced the Escanaba high honor students and parents, and Fr. Stephen O. F. M., the honor students of St. Joseph's high school and their parents.

Honor and Success

Miss Irene Steen, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Otto Steen, recipient of the Rotary club watch award for 1950; and Jim Chapek, son of Mr. and Mrs. Antone Grown-ups have always had a tendency to look back on the "good old days" when they were young and to believe the younger generation is going to the dogs, Supt. Lemmer said. They think with affection of the school they used to attend and believe they were taught in the only effective way.

The Rotarians, representing the "grown-ups" who may believe the young people of today are not effectively taught spelling and reading, were told that teaching today is more efficient. No longer are children taught to spell words that "have no value so far as I know except in working out cross-word puzzles," or to read by the cat, rat, mat method.

Better Understanding

"Children learn to spell the words which are most commonly used, and those words were determined by examination of thousands of personal and business letters, newspaper and magazine articles. Learning the most commonly used words is a big enough job you will readily admit," the school superintendent explained.

"In the 'good old days' children were asked to memorize a vast amount of material, ranging from the names of the bones in the body to unimportant dates in history.

Today young people are "more concerned with good health habits, clean stores, pure water and pure food; concerned with the problems of labor and capital and the farmer, of good government and good citizenship, and can discuss those problems much more intelligently than we could or can."

The Good Citizen

The schools are turning out better citizens, despite statistics that show the average age of the criminal in the United States is only 19 years, Supt. Lemmer said.

He cited figures to show that most of the inmates in prisons quit school at an early age, and pointed out that four billion dollars are spent annually for education, compared to "15 billions or more for crime."

"A high school diploma is the best insurance policy one can have against serving a prison sentence," he said.

"Our schools are often criticized unfavorably and that is because we do not hear about the thousands of graduates who are the dependable and responsible citizens who make up America. The headlines go to the delinquent, the maladjusted and the criminal."

"We ask that our graduates be judged not by the few who are bad but by the many who are good; that our homes be judged not by the few that are bad, but the many like yours which provide security and teach responsibility for others and love of fellowmen and love of God."

Dwarf fruit trees are becoming more widely accepted because they take up less space and make the job of gathering ripe fruit much simpler.

Perkins Board Election June 12

PERKINS—A school board election will be held at the town hall at Perkins June 12 from 10 to 5 to select two board trustees to fill terms expiring June 30. Candidates are N. J. Sharkey, Mrs. Gus Kline, Jr., John Aperi, Floyd C. Fuhrman and Henry Soderstrom.

Oconto Church
Is Celebrating
80th Anniversary

OCONTO—Final plans are under way for the three day celebration of the 80th anniversary of St. Joseph's parish.

The event will be held June 16 to 18, inclusive, on the parish grounds at Madison and Park, where booths, dining facilities, and an entertainment platform are now being erected. A huge altar has been built on the athletic field for the pontifical high mass and the candlelight benediction, the high lights of the celebration.

Local parishioners recall the hardships encountered in 1870 when funds and materials were collected from residents and the lumbering camps of the region for the first 40 by 80 foot frame church. The frame church was enlarged and made part of the present venerable building in 1895, the old frame parish school, opened in 1874, was supplanted by a modern brick building in 1914, the Porter house was made into a rectory in 1902, the old Lincoln school was purchased and remodeled into a parish hall in 1908, and a convent was built in 1938.

The featured stand will be a registration booth where homecoming guests will find tabulated information about former parishioners. Miss Clara Vullings, in charge of contacting former members, reports that replies have been received from California, Oregon, Idaho, Washington, Texas, Ohio, Florida, Georgia, Minnesota, Illinois, and from all parts of Wisconsin.

Bishop John B. Grellinger, pastor of St. Joseph's church, will be the celebrant of the pontifical high mass at 10 a. m. on June 18. Bishop Stanislaus V. Bona will be the celebrant at the 8 p. m. candlelight benediction on the same day. A large gathering of the clergy of the diocese of Green Bay will be present.

The Suring high school band will lead the on wheels parade and pet show contest on Saturday at 2 p. m. Mrs. Frank DonLevy, chairman, reports that several hundred entries have been received. Any children of grade school age or under are eligible. The parade will be followed by an auction and an old fashioned square dance contest at 9:30.

About 5,000 people are expected to attend the celebration. Mr. Siebert Berth is general chairman.

Oconto Church
Is Celebrating
80th Anniversary

OCONTO—Final plans are under way for the three day celebration of the 80th anniversary of St. Joseph's parish.

The event will be held June 16 to 18, inclusive, on the parish grounds at Madison and Park, where booths, dining facilities, and an entertainment platform are now being erected. A huge altar has been built on the athletic field for the pontifical high mass and the candlelight benediction, the high lights of the celebration.

Local parishioners recall the hardships encountered in 1870 when funds and materials were collected from residents and the lumbering camps of the region for the first 40 by 80 foot frame church. The frame church was enlarged and made part of the present veneered building in 1895, the old frame parish school, opened in 1874, was supplanted by a modern brick building in 1914, the Porter house was made into a rectory in 1902, the old Lincoln school was purchased and remodeled into a parish hall in 1908, and a convent was built in 1938.

The featured stand will be a registration booth where homecoming guests will find tabulated information about former parishioners. Miss Clara Vullings, in charge of contacting former members, reports that replies have been received from California, Oregon, Idaho, Washington, Texas, Ohio, Florida, Georgia, Minnesota, Illinois, and from all parts of Wisconsin.

Bishop John B. Grellinger, pastor of St. Joseph's church, will be the celebrant of the pontifical high mass at 10 a. m. on June 18. Bishop Stanislaus V. Bona will be the celebrant at the 8 p. m. candlelight benediction on the same day. A large gathering of the clergy of the diocese of Green Bay will be present.

The Suring high school band will lead the on wheels parade and pet show contest on Saturday at 2 p. m. Mrs. Frank Donlevy, chairman, reports that several hundred entries have been received. Any children of grade school age or under are eligible. The parade will be followed by an auction and an amateur talent contest at 3:30 and an old fashioned square dance contest at 9:30.

About 5,000 people are expected to attend the celebration. Mr. Siebert Berth is general chairman.

111 Cedar StreetPlans For Legion's Big
3-Day Home Coming Fete
Now Nearing Completion

"It's full steam ahead from now on," says William Cowman, general chairman of the American Legion committee in announcing that organization's plans for the big three-day homecoming celebration on July 2, 3 and 4.

At a meeting held at the Legion cottage Tuesday evening, general plans for the big celebration were mapped out, committees appointed and all concerned ordered to go to work.

Appointed to assist heads of various committees with details were John Wood and Emery Barnes. Their chief duties will be to keep plans functioning without duplication of effort and encourage everyone to do his or her full share of the work.

Activities for the three days are practically completed at this time, but a few important details still remain to be added and for that reason formal announcement of the program is being withheld for the time being.

This much can be offered, however. There will be ball games, band concerts, contests and sports events, pavement dancing, monster parade, and a grand display of fireworks.

Concessions for booth, stands and carnival attractions are invited and all those interested are instructed to confer with Cliff Cool, at Cliff's Market.

Chairmen of the various committees are as follows: Parade, Captain Doyle; Homecoming, Ted Monroe; Fireworks, Bill Blowers and Harrison LaFollette; Street Sports, William Cowman and Marvin Gray; Baseball, Claude O'Neil; Softball, William Cowman; Special Tickets, Harvey Quick; Concessions, Cliff Cool.

"Of course, putting on a big affair like this costs money," says Cowman. "We will need at least $2,500 to put it across." In the course of a few days members of the finance committee will call upon local business firms for donations. Members of the finance committee are: Emery Barnes and John Wood, co-chairmen; Cliff Cool, E. R. Monroe, Harvey Quick, Homer LaFollette, Fred Christensen and Henry Gardner.

Other Bible schools may be held later in the summer.

Living Pictures
Make OES Meeting
Memorable Event

Living pictures—tableaux in which local people filled the roles—did much to make last Tuesday's meeting of Ida Chapter Order of Eastern Star a memorable occasion.

A heavily draped enclosure, faced with a large frame on which dark net material had been stretched, served as a stage. Numerous electric bulbs provided light effects. Twelve scenes, delineating Eastern Star and Cloverland Association history and heroines of Biblical history represented in OES ritual, were shown.

Some of the scenes were gay—representing happy occasions of yester years. Many were impressively beautiful. Mrs. Hildred Taylor read the narrative, composed by herself; and Mrs. William Norton attended to costuming and makeup.

The living pictures will be featured at Crystal Falls when the Cloverland Association meets there in annual convention June 14 and 15. Mrs. Taylor, president of the association, will conduct the deliberations.

At Tuesday evening's chapter session, six candidates were initiated into the order.

Members from Germfask served the luncheon at the close of the evening.

The camp will be held from 9 a. m. through 4 p. m. each day. Brownies will be picked up at the Lincoln, Lakeside and Central schools and taken to the Ossa Hotel where they will hike to Trailer Park.

Mrs. William Bays, director, will conduct a training course for leaders on June 27-29. More leaders are needed and those who wish to help may call Mrs. Robert Hoar.

Dimension Co.
Plant SoldChicago Firm Buys
Controlling Interest

Through a deal completed Tuesday control of the Michigan Dimension Company plant has been taken over by the Dearborn Company, of Chicago, Ill. Announcement to that effect was made Wednesday noon by A. L. Margolis, vice president of the Chicago concern.

In making the announcement, Margolis explained that controlling interest in the plant, which was formerly held by stockholders of the Bay de Noc Lumber Company, was first sold Tuesday by the Winternitz Auction Company and that it had been the intention of the auction company to liquidate the plant.

The Dearborn Company then purchased the holdings from the Winternitz company and Margolis announces that it is the intention of his company to continue operations. All personnel will be retained in their present positions, he said, adding that it is the intention of the new management to increase, if possible, the volume of business.

R. L. Prine will continue active as manager and James McLaughlin in charge of sales.

The new company took over Wednesday morning.

The Michigan Dimension Company deals principally in hardwood finished and semi-finished products. About 135 people are employed at the plant.

Graduation Speaker
Counsels Faith-Courage

"Is Life Worth Living?" Dr. William Schrier, head of the speech department of Hope College, used that question as the theme for his address at the high school commencement exercises here Wednesday and his talk was an emphatic answer in the affirmative.

"God has given us the privilege of living in these great times and we should be thankful for that privilege," he told the young people.

Fully acknowledging the gravely serious problems with which the world is beset he counseled courage and consecration.

"Hang on to your ideals," he said. "Don't join the chorus of criticism and cynicism one hears on all sides."

Faith in God, he admonished, is fundamental overcoming the world's problems.

Dr. George Shaw, president of the board of education presented the diplomas to a class of 87.

Outlook Dim! Detroiters Lose, Must Face Byrne

NEW YORK—(P)—The battle between the Tigers and the Yankees for the American league leadership will be renewed here tonight with Detroit's steady righthander Art Houtman against New York's lefty Tommy Byrne.

Byrne has a habit of beating the Tigers. The Bengals lost their one-day percentage hold on top roost in the league yesterday as the Yanks won the opener of a three-game series here, 5-4. Detroit now is a game and a half behind New York.

Home runs by Joe DiMaggio, Phil Rizzuto and Billy Johnson off Harold Newhouser powered the Yankees back into first place and snapped a seven-game Tiger winning streak.

Berra is Pesky
But it was a pesky single by Yogi Berra in the seventh inning that gave New York the winning margin.

With the score tied 4-4, the bases loaded and two out, Berra cracked a grounder to shortstop Johnny Lipton. It was too hot to handle and Lipton juggled the ball, allowing Cliff Mape to score the winning run. Berra was credited with a hit.

Lipton went hitless in four tries and his 19-game hitting streak was broken.

It was Newhouser's second defeat of the season after four straight victories. All the home runs came with the bases empty. Detroit's Aaron Robinson homered in the second with the bases empty.

Vic Raschi, although hit hard at the start, went the route for the Yankees to win his sixth game.

Detroit got off to a good start. With two out in the first, George Kell singled, Vic Wertz walked and Hoot Evers tripled to bring in two runs.

Robinson Homers
A pair of singles by Cliff Mape and Hank Bauer coupled with DiMaggio's fly to center brought in the first Yank run, also in the first.

Thanks to Robinson's homer, the Tigers got a 3-1 lead in the second, but it faded when the Yanks started knocking homers. DiMaggio hit his tenth of the season in the fourth, Rizzuto hit his first of the year in the fifth and Johnson lashed out his second in the sixth.

The Tigers got their fourth and final run across in the sixth when they loaded the bases with only one out. Evers singled and went to second when Johnny Groth singled Evers took third Robinson's fly to DiMaggio and Groth moved to second when Jerry Coleman bobbled DiMaggio's throw from the outfield. Dick Kryhoski was walked intentionally, filling the bases. On Newhouser's bunt, Evers was squeezed home while the batter was retired. Lipton fled out to end the threat.

Muskegon Pitcher Gets Ninth In Row

(By The Associated Press)
Muskegon's curve ball side-arm, Frank Logue, posted his ninth straight victory without a defeat last night in pitching the Clippers to a 6-5 win over the Saginaw Bears.

In the only other Central league game, Grand Rapids got off to a six-run first inning and trounced Dayton 16-6. Grand Rapids cut a half-game off the league lead of Flint which was idle along with Charleston. Flint leads the pack by three and a half games.

Spilling The Dope

By Charlie Larson

Things at the Escanaba golf club are as sharp as Pro Dick Knop's brilliant caps.

For instance, Max Council of the cement Councils is putting in long hours under Dick's tutelage.

The aim? Why, to get revenge from Emerson Harvey, of course. But how in the world anyone can hit a golf ball with Dick's cap blinding him is more than we know.

Mayhap, Dick does that so that, when the chips really are down, nothing distracts his students.

If they could play undisturbed in the vicinity of that chapeau, they could be nonchalant at any distraction.

When John Taggart leaves in a few days for his new job in Kingsport, Tenn., the club will be losing one of its best golfers. Maybe his place will be taken by Bill Shepeck. We hear Bill went around in 45 the other day.

One look at the course gives the impression that it is in the best shape in years, especially the fairways and greens.

Of course, that wouldn't do us any good. We don't associate much with the fairways.

But just ask us about the roughs and the water holes and the bunkers and the fences and the trees. We know, and love, every one of them. Old buddies, you know!

Club members won't want for activity this year.

Knop is trying to arrange a suitable substitute for those twilight league pairings, which aren't too popular. He'll come up with something.

Official opening of the women's league is June 13.

Knop is going to start giving lessons to juniors from 11 to 18 Thursday mornings from 9 to 11.

The club dining room is open to members for dinners Thursday through Sunday.

Big plans are under way for the blue ribbon classic, the U. P. open in July. Exact date has not been set.

Whatever the date, it is planned to precede it by a week by the Tri-club meet to give members of the three clubs (Escanaba, Highland and Gladstone) a chance to warm up for the Open.

Boys Feel They Can Lick Sugar

LaMotta, Graziano Not Bashful

NEW YORK—(P)—Welterweight Champion Sugar Ray Robinson doesn't scare easily, so he can read this.

Middleweight King Jake LaMotta and former champion Rocky Graziano, now working out for their June 28 title bout, both say they could knock out Robinson.

LaMotta must give Robinson a chance at his middleweight crown within 90 days if he beats Graziano. The same doubtlessly will apply to Rocky if he beats LaMotta.

LaMotta lost to Robinson in four of five meetings but said: "I'd like to fight him again, but in a 20-round bout. I'd knock him out for sure."

Graziano said: "I'll knock Robinson stiff. I'll take that cocky guy anytime, in a gym, ring or an alley. I want to fight him more than any other guy. I'll take him on after LaMotta, win, lose or draw."

Purdue Sophomore Cops Big 10 Title

CHICAGO—(P)—Purdue's sophomore shortstop, Billy Skowron, closed his first season of Big Ten baseball competition with the 1950 individual batting championship and a new conference record.

Skowron, Boilmakers' punting star in football, hit safely 20 times in 40 trips to the plate. His .500 average cracked the previous record of .484 set by Lee Ellbracht, Illinois catcher, in 1946.

Illinois' Russ Steger finished second with .447.

Wisconsin, co-champion with Michigan, presented the league's top pitcher in Thornton Klipper, winner of five games without a defeat.

Indiana's Jim McGee (2-2) struck out 44 batters in the 42 innings he pitched to top the league in strikeouts.

Marchy Schwartz All Star Coach

CHICAGO—(P)—Marchmont Schwartz, Stanford university football coach and one of Notre Dame's all-time backfield stars, has joined the College All-Star coaching staff for the All-Star football game with the Philadelphia Eagles at Soldier Field Aug. 11.

The All Star coaching staff will report at Delafield, Wis., July 19 the day before the collegians arrive to start practice. The Eagles will start practice at Grand Rapids, Minn., the same day.

HOWDY, STRANGER!—Wayne Terwilliger of the Cubs looks like he's greeting a long-lost buddy after fouling off a pitch in the third inning at Chicago's Wrigley Field. Watching the ball go out of play, Andy Seminick appears to be acknowledging the plaudits of his public. The Phillies won this one, 8-4.

Slightly Used Hypnotist Tracy Thinks He Still Can Help Brownies

NEW YORK—(P)—Dr. David F. Tracy, late of the St. Louis Browns, lounged in an easy chair. On the table a morning paper headline said "Boston 20, St. Louis 4."

What happened to the noble experiment? Why didn't the good doctor's psychology and hypnosis help the Brownies?

Dr. Tracy tried to provide the answers. "My plan didn't work out," he said, "because I didn't have the full cooperation of the manager, Zack Taylor. He never spoke 10 words with me all the while I was with the club.

"I wanted the privilege of talking to the club for five or 10 minutes before every game but Taylor said 'no.' The only way you can work with young players is to keep after them. When they make mistakes, talk to them right away.

Pitchers Are Enemies
"During spring training I had two 30-men classes every day. It worked out fine. But when we returned to St. Louis, we didn't have any more classes. The boys were told they could come to me if they wanted but I wasn't permitted to call them in for conferences. All they had me doing was making lecture appearances.

"Just before I left the club I did call in a few of them. Owen Friend, the second baseman, was eager to have me help him.

"Friend was over-anxious, lunging at the ball. I worked on him, building up a resentment against pitchers. I drilled into him the idea that pitchers are his enemies. Trying to take the bread off his table, I told him to get mad. Go up there determined to knock the ball down his throat.

"That night, Friend hit two home runs, practically won a game singlehanded.

"We had a first baseman who never figured out things in advance. A shortstop always threw the ball too quick, obsessed with the idea he might throw it away if he took his time. If I had the chance I could cure both.

"Same way with Roy Sievers and Dick Kokos. I could cure their slumps. All slumps are mental. And that goes even for Ralph Kiner.

"During spring training they let me work with three pitchers. All were wild. A wild pitcher is a pitcher who is afraid to get the ball over the plate. That's why they're wild.

"I could help Ralph Branca and Rex Barney, I know. They have the same trouble. When you're afraid to do something, you're sure to do it. That's what they call tightening up, nervous tension.

"I still think I can help baseball. I'd love to work with young players at a farm club base. That is where it is most important to instill the right habits."

So the good doctor is out of baseball but not discouraged. Any club owner want to hire a slightly-used hypnotist? The address is 36 East 36th street.

Musial Hurt
Stan Musial joined the other St. Louis crimples during the loss to Boston's Warren Spahn. Stan suffered a cut between two fingers of his left hand, taking a throw from Al Brazie. He will be out for a day or two.

Rookie Bob Miller lifted the Philadelphia Phils into second place—ahead of St. Louis and only a half game behind Brooklyn—with a 4-0 victory over Cincinnati. It was the fourth straight win for Miller, who scattered seven hits.

Folks will have to take the New York Giants seriously if they continue to roll up scores like yesterday's 13-4 romp over Chicago. Leo DuRoche's Giants have won five in a row and six of seven on their second western trip.

AMERICAN ASSOCIATION

East, a class C school, won the formal state class C championships in basketball, track and golf the past seasons.

In football there is no formal title, but Eastern won the mythical championship.

In baseball Eastern tied for first place, as a Grand Valley conference member. Eastern won the regional tennis championship and was undefeated in conference play. In swimming Eastern moved out of its class to win the class B championship.

Schiller, a 1948 graduate of Western Michigan, succeeds John Hoekje, who has become basketball coach at class A Flint Central.

Giant Tryout Blanks Here

Tests June 19-22 At Iron Mountain

Application blanks for the New York Giant major league baseball tryout camp on June 19-20-21-22 at Iron Mountain are available at the Daily Press sports department.

The four-day tryouts will be conducted by Ray Lucas, Giant scout and former big league hurler, and his staff. Young players 17 to 22 years of age, inclusive, are eligible to attend. Players still attending high school are not eligible.

Between 15 and 100 young baseball players from Upper and Lower Michigan and Northern Wisconsin are expected to attend the first Giant school in the U. P.

Players must attend at their own expense and bring their own uniforms, shoes and gloves. Catching equipment, balls and bats will be supplied.

General workouts will be held each morning of the four days and intra-squad games are scheduled for afternoons. The camp will close with an exhibition game between a picked team from the tryout camp and the Kingsford Cardinals, of the NWM league, on Thursday night.

Any players signed by the Giants will be reimbursed for expenses incurred during the session.

Snead, Hogan Rate Favorites

ARDMORE, Pa. — (P) — Sam Snead's putter, Ben Hogan's legs and the weather were the chief topics of conversation as 165 of goldfom's very select teed off today in the 50th national open championship.

The first of 55 threesomes set out early over Merion's 6,694 well-trapped, weed-fringed yards to start the rugged 72-hole test.

Two days of near-90° temperatures have left the broad, undulating green hard as concrete and slick as glass. Each carpet was packed by a 300-pound roller last night to make sure they'd be lightning fast.

Snead's golf's No. 1 capitalist who has played in nine open tournaments and never won one, has not been bothered by the roughs—so sound is his booming te game. But the tricky greens—that's something else.

He turned in a 71 in practice yesterday. He would have had a 67 had not his favorite brass-headed putter balked on four rather easy assignments.

Hogan, the 135 pounds of Texas gristle who is essaying a comeback after a near fatal auto accident 17 months ago, took it easy yesterday, saving legs which have not regained their full usefulness.

Ben had not played 36 holes in one day since his mishap and there is some question he can endure the double trip around the hilly layout Saturday.

"I could help Ralph Branca and Rex Barney, I know. They have the same trouble. When you're afraid to do something, you're sure to do it. That's what they call tightening up, nervous tension.

"I still think I can help baseball. I'd love to work with young players at a farm club base. That is where it is most important to instill the right habits."

So the good doctor is out of baseball but not discouraged. Any club owner want to hire a slightly-used hypnotist? The address is 36 East 36th street.

Bears Bolstered For Manistique

Cut to 10 men by the loss of Jim Buelow and Pinky Burnell, the Escanaba Bears are adding several prospects this week in an attempt to bolster their lineup for the home game with Manistique Sunday.

When Trenary failed to show up for a twilight game last night, the team played an intra-squad game and at least one of the prospects appeared bright, indeed.

He was Russ Hiltonen, young American Legion team hurler from the Copper Country, who stood the "Regulars" on their heads.

Strikes Out 12
Hiltonen, who has a fast ball and plenty of curves, shut out the "Regulars", 4-0, and struck out 12 men. He allowed only two hits, a double by Ronnie Sedenquist and a single by Bob Dufour.

Others who are trying out for the team are two Meyers brothers of Port Huron, whose father is a commercial fisherman operating out of Escanaba; Jack Schwalbach, who has returned from Milwaukee where he has been attending Leighton Art school; and Dean Bailey and Bill Gustafson, who have played with Houghton in the Tri-State league.

Two other prospects are expected back by Sunday. They are Jack Schils, who is attending Northern Michigan college, and Dick Lough, who is attending Michigan State college.

Need Reserves
"We were getting too low on players and need reserve strength to keep up with the other teams in the league," said Fr. Louis Cappe, Escanaba manager.

"We intend to remain an Escanaba team as much as possible but no team can play a tough league schedule with only one man in reserve."

"If any of these boys show they can play good ball, we'll give them a chance. We're not going to let baseball go by default in Escanaba."

Fr. Cappe said "it is Joe Rademacher's turn to pitch" Sunday against Manistique but "he may want to save himself for the twilight game next week with Bark River." If so, Escanaba will call on either veteran Jack Beck or Hiltonen to face Manistique.

The team will play road game at Kenosha, Wis., Rockford, Ill., and Peoria, Ill., in the next six days as a ward of the league.

Pinch Hit Homer Floors Toledo, 6-5
(By The Associated Press)
A pinch-hit homer by Frank Kalin in the tenth inning gave Indianapolis a 6 to 5 triumph over Toledo last night and enabled the runaway Indians to stay within one-half game of leading Minneapolis.

The Mills stayed in front by outlasting Milwaukee, 10-7. In other AA games, Louisville beat Columbus 4 to 1 and St. Paul defeated Kansas City, 9 to 8 in 10 innings.

Relax, Kid, Relax;
Is Boyle's Advice
For Joe College

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK—(AP)—An open letter to Joe College, class of 1950:

Dear Joe:

Welcome to the brave new world, kid. You couldn't be getting out of college at a better time.

A year ago plenty of sad sacks were prophesying business would turn sour by now. It hasn't worked out that way. You can go ask for a job anywhere and nobody will break your arm.

As a matter of fact, a survey of 128 colleges by the Northwestern National Life Insurance company indicated that by October four out of five of the class of '50 would be off their Dad's back and on somebody's payroll. The pay? Anything from $175 a month or less up to $400.

But don't sit at home waiting for a $400 offer, Joe. Why become a hermit at your age? Go out and beat the bushes for whatever berries are on them. Get used to the idea that many people work years and years before they buy their first yacht.

There is no point in trying to tell you how to get ahead, Joe. You know the formula: Just give your work the old college try. You won't go up to the boss and tell him at once that you are smarter than he is. You know enough to let him find that out for himself—gradually, so it won't upset him.

But, Joe, there is one word of advice I'd like to give you. It's this:

"Relax."

These are jittery times, perhaps the most jittery ever known. A census might even show there are more ulcers alive in the world today than there are people. There's a growing habit to be afraid of shadows, which are usually larger than the things that cast them.

Don't you take up this habit, Joe. Fear is a kind of reverse opium. Once you become addicted to it you may never rest again. It's harder to shake off than narcotics.

It would be sad, indeed, if your class of '50 also became press agents for the two fears gnawing America—the fear of war and the fear of insecurity. Panic never yet stopped a war—or made a man secure.

So, relax, Joe. Show the older people the example they need: That courage doesn't die in romps, but also weaves long pants.

What really is there to be afraid of? War today is only the threat of a needless possibility. Security? There is more mass security in the United States today than there was when young Thomas Jefferson wrote the declaration of Independence, and he lived to be an old, old man. More people live a wider, freer life than at previous periods of our national story. The good old days are a legend. The good present time is here to be enjoyed.

There's a job waiting for you to find, Joe. There's a girl for you to marry, and you'll want to bring up some kids. And the prospect for bringing them up in a happy world was never really better.

But you don't find happiness by being tense. Relax, Joe, and learn the lesson of all champions—to do hard things the easy way.

Good Luck,
Hal Boyle
